HIPAA Act of 1996-Permitted Disclosures

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (Act) and the Rules promulgated by the Department of Health and Human Services pursuant to the Act permits disclosure of otherwise protected health information as defined in 45 C.F.R. §160.103 to a “health oversight agency” without the written authorization of the individual as described in 45 C.F.R. §164.508 or the opportunity for the individual to agree or object as described in 45 C.F.R. §164.510. See 45 C.F.R. §164.512(d)(1). Specifically, this rule provides as follows:

- A covered entity may disclose protected health information to a health oversight agency for oversight activities authorized by law, including audits; civil administrative or criminal investigations; inspections; licensure or disciplinary actions; civil, administrative or criminal proceedings or actions; or other activities necessary for appropriate oversight of:
  - (i) The health care system;
  - (ii) Government benefit programs for which health information is relevant to beneficiary eligibility;
  - (iii) Entities subject to government regulatory programs for which health information is necessary for determining compliance with program standards;Or
  - (iv) Entities subject to civil rights laws for which health information is necessary for determining compliance.

A “Health Oversight Agency” is defined in 45 C.F.R. §164.501 as follows:

“Health Oversight Agency means an agency or authority of the United States, a State, a territory, a political subdivision of a State or territory, or an Indian tribe, or a person or entity acting under a grant of authority from a contract with such public agency, including the employees or agents of such public agency or its contractors or persons or entities to whom it has granted authority, that is authorized by law to oversee the health care system (whether public or private) or government programs in which health information is necessary to determine eligibility or compliance, or to enforce civil rights laws which health information is relevant.”

Since the Board of Dental Examiners of Alabama is a Health Oversight Agency which is authorized by law to seek this information pursuant to the Alabama Dental Practice Act, the disclosure of the requested information is permitted and does not implicate the Act or its rules.
